Because fair is worth fighting for

STOP the unfair cuts!

Debt is being passed from the government to us - young people that had no part in our economic demise.

The abolition of EMA and the rising of tuition fees will increase the burden on students, forcing many out of education.

Even after exams, opportunities are few and far between. Hundreds of thousands of us are missing out on university places, more than one in five young people are unemployed and there are a severe lack of apprenticeships to learn on the job.

We believe this is unfair and economically illiterate.

Fair taxes. A Robin Hood Tax. Invest in Green jobs

But there is an alternative.

The Green Party has always been opposed to tuition fees and the removal of EMA. We know that free education is the only way of ensuring that everybody has fair access to an education and an affordable future.

We argue that the deficit should not be solved by dumping the debt onto students but by progressive taxation on the highest earners, tackling tax avoidance and introducing a robin hood tax on the banks.

Investment in Green jobs, solving both unemployment and climate change, is a better way forward than deep, destructive austerity measures.

The Green Party would invest in home insulation nationwide, creating jobs and apprenticeships for thousands, as well as tackling climate change. We would also ensure that education is accessible to all so that success is determined by effort instead of wealth.

We believe that we need to bring equality between generations, not burden the young people who didn't cause the crisis.
